

Compliance for Legal & Career Protection

Using SMS texting and public messaging apps, like WhatsApp, Slack, or Teams, for work-related communication can get you and your agency in a tangled legal mess and even risk your career. Avoid this by using a communication app like Evertel that is compliant with all federal and state-level legal requirements for public safety communication, as well as:

Produce complete audits of your agency's communication which is available 365/24/7.

Allows you to review usage reports to monitor compliance.

Ensure your agency meets all CJIS and FOIA requirements.

Count on military-grade security that protects and secures your data using high-level encryption within a secure, U.S. based, government-only cloud environment.

Protect your agency, your officers, and your career: The often illegal use of public messaging apps by officers on the job is increasingly becoming a known issue. Not only are city managers and attorneys becoming aware, but activist groups as well, and they are targeting agencies who are not employing compliant solutions.

Crime Suppression

Found that wanted fugitive? Notify everyone within seconds. By immediately disseminating critical intel to those who need it most, Genasys EVERTEL, enhances your team's ability to solve crimes, locate missing persons, and apprehend suspects more quickly.

Evertel's messaging app distributes intel and status updates immediately which means intel bulletins can be created from any device (even while in the field) and distributed on a need-to-know basis directly to each employee's phone or device.

Evertel supports regional collaboration and deconfliction enhancing your ability to work jointly with your neighboring agencies (police, fire, specialty) to coordinate and share intel.

Crisis Management

Clear up confusion by filtering your team's messaging in times of crisis. With EVERTEL, all non-emergency communication can be moved to a Crisis room within the Evertel app — keeping the radio clear for critical traffic.

You can:

Keep your employees up to date during crisis events with blast communications.

Coordinate and collaborate with regional agencies in a single location to ensure all are on the same page and in alignment.

Cut response time significantly with the ability to reach your team in real-time instead of email or briefings.

Efficiency

Not only does Evertel streamline communication to keep your staff informed, productive and on the street – it also saves your agency time, money, and resources.

With Evertel's instant communication platform, officers no longer need to wait for management or rely on emails and/or briefings to gain intel.

Decrease administrative and OT costs - with one click, everyone has what they need to do their job efficiently.

Save OT on dispatchers when working low-risk events.

Manage all assignments and updates through Evertel in real-time.

Save time on public information requests for your support staff with Evertel's audit feature. Within 3-5 minutes, you can pull all data needed to fulfill the request.

Administrative

Unlike email, EVERTEL messages are not scattered throughout your inbox or cluttered in between SPAM or junk-mail. EVERTEL ensures your messages are direct, targeted, and seen, ensuring full distribution of information immediately.

Agency leaders can instantly share new policies, changes to protocol, and revised SOPs to all employees, and audit who viewed them. As a leader, Evertel also gives you the ability to extinguish rumors immediately or prevent them in the first place through direct communication to all employees in agency-wide rooms.
